

DARWEEN

WORKSHOP – Research on Sustainable Manufacturing within international projects

<https://www.future-industry.org/darween/>

Join us for an online workshop on sustainability-focused manufacturing research, collaboratively hosted by Mines Saint-Étienne and the Technical University of Munich.

This hands-on workshop provides an opportunity to connect and collaborate with individuals and organizations committed to advancing international research in sustainable manufacturing, aiming to create a more sustainable world.

After insights from research and industry experts introducing their sustainability projects you are welcome to collaborate in a discussion about further collaboration possibilities in this cutting-edge topic.

Save the date: November, 23rd from 9 to 12 am, online
